Hello all,

I was wondering if there was any way to access an attendee list of the conference from the different companies? I'm preparing an article with some statistics. Would be very helpful. Please let me know! Thanks.

now really you would think that VMworld would just hand out the entire list of attendee's to someone for stats? Why not just ask what the stats are because I'm sure they have them, though I think its a longshot they'll even hand those out.
